Teaching in Medical Education (TiME) Faculty Fellows Program

Developing faculty as teachers and scholars

Teresa J. (Terry) Carter, EdD
VCU School of Medicine

Goals for the Program

- Enhance depth and breadth of faculty expertise to support teaching and learning
- Foster the development of a cadre of academic leaders who can model best practices in teaching within undergraduate, clinical, and graduate programs
- Promote leadership in the scholarship of teaching and learning (SoTL)

How the Program Works

TiME offers 8, two-credit graduate courses through SOE

Courses are all taught in the McGlothlin Medical Education Center, 5:15-7:45 pm, one day a week for a 12-week semester

Full-time, VCU-paid faculty can enroll as “non-degree” seeking students for up to 6 credit hours (3 courses) with tuition waivers

Those who wish to earn the Post-Baccalaureate Graduate Certificate in Medical Education enroll in the certificate program

The graduate certificate can be earned upon completion of 6 courses, four that are required and two electives

Courses in the TiME Program

Required to earn the Certificate

- Instructional Strategies
- Curriculum Design
- Adult Learning Theory and Practice
- Teaching as Scholarship

Electives (Choose two)

- Performance Feedback and Simulation
- Group and Team Facilitation
- Using Digital Media in Teaching
- Reflective Practice

Key Features

- A faculty development program – enrollment processed by the SOM each semester
- Class size limited to 20, “hands-on” small group learning experience
- Developed for SOM faculty in 2012-2013, with plans to extend enrollment to interested MCV faculty when possible
- Two courses offered Spring and Fall (12 weeks), one in the summer (8-weeks)

For more information, contact us, or visit http://wp.vcu.edu/time/

Dr. Terry Carter
Associate Dean for Professional Instruction and Faculty Development
McGlothlin Medical Education Center
tjcarter@vcu.edu
828-3134